How to check your Course ID

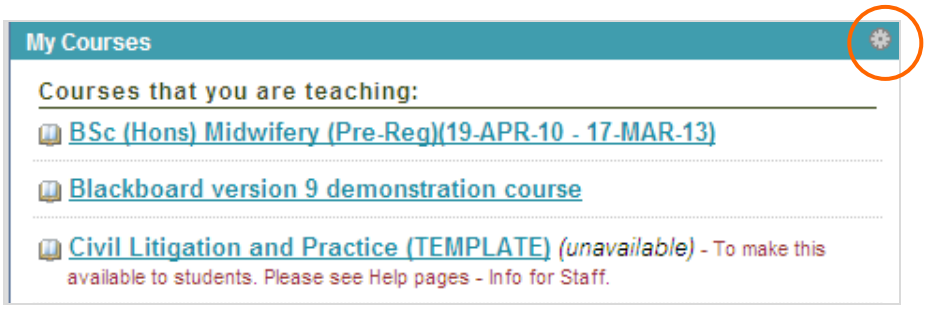
Blackboard course IDs allow you to check exactly which version of a programme or module you are working with. Having this information can help you to avoid a great deal of confusion and wasted effort, and is essential when communicating with the West London Online Helpdesk.

The Course ID for Programme and Module "instances" consists of the Programme / Module code from Unit-e, with a suffix showing the module start and end dates (these dates are also taken directly from Unit-e).

The Course ID for Programme and Module Templates consists of the Programme / Module code from Unit-e, with the suffix TEMPLATE.

Viewing course IDs on the Home Page or Courses tab

On the Home Page tab, by default the My Courses panel displays only the Names of courses which you are teaching, or on which you are enrolled. You can opt to have the Course ID displayed here as well – click on the cog icon to change your Home Page settings.



My Courses
Courses that you are teaching:
BSc (Hons) Midwifery (Pre-Reg)(19-APR-10 - 17-MAR-13)
Blackboard version 9 demonstration course
Civil Litigation and Practice (TEMPLATE) (unavailable) - To make this available to students. Please see Help pages - Info for Staff.

Alternatively, to see fuller details of each course, open the Courses tab. Here, by default you see the course ID, Name, and a list of Instructors.
